DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Applicant's election of claims 13-18 in the reply filed on 3-11-05 is acknowledged. Because applicant did not distinctly and specifically point out the supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election has been treated as an election without traverse (MPEP § 818.03(a)). Claims 1-18 are currently pending, with claims 1-12 withdrawn to a non-elected invention.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 13-14 and 16-17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Nonaka (6,781,238). Nonaka discloses a method of forming a cross-fill metal fill pattern in an integrated circuit that provides a plurality of purposeful functions, comprising: forming and a means for forming a first plurality of parallel traces electrically connected; forming and a means for forming a second plurality of parallel traces electrically connected; electrically routing and a means for electrically routing said first plurality of parallel traces to a common power rail in said integrated circuit; and electrically routing and a means for electrically routing said second plurality of parallel traces to a common ground rail in said integrated circuit (col.2 lines 59-65); wherein said cross-fill metal pattern provides metal fill as a first purposeful function (Fig.6), and as a second purposeful function provides at least one of capacitance across a power supply, and electro-magnetic shielding to protect an analog circuit therebelow (col.10 lines 6-17; col.9 lines 16-25) [claims 13, 16].

Based upon the rejection of claims 13 and 16 above, Nonaka also discloses forming and a means for forming interdigitated fingers physically connected to at least one of said first plurality of parallel traces; and forming and a means for forming interdigitated fingers physically connected to at least one of said second plurality of parallel traces (col.2 lines 59-65; col.7 lines 53-59) [claims 14, 17].

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 15 and 18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Nonaka as applied to claims 13 and 16 above, and further in view of Wolf (Silicon Processing for the VLSI Era, v.2). Nonaka discloses providing an electromagnetic shield (col.9 lines 16-25). However, Nonaka does not disclose providing an analog circuit. Nonaka would look to one such as Wolf for interfacing with analog structures because Wolf discloses providing an analog circuit with several types of integrated circuits (p.555 Sec.7.12.3.4 para.1). Therefore, it would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to use the analog circuit of Wolf with the method of Nonaka in order to interface with analog structures (p.555 Sec.7.12.3.4 para.1).
